December 10th Party

Christmas Party Comes Early For Agape

This year we will meet at 2:00 pm, December 10, at the Russian Art Museum, 5500 Stevens Avenue South (on Diamond Lake Road, just southwest of the junction with Interstate 35W).

Parking is across the street in the church parking lot. We will have self guided tours of the museum. Currently this includes modern Russian art and an exhibit called "500 Years of Iconography." The cost is $5.00 per adult and "a donation for students and those over 60" (You can be sure that those of us who just might be eligible will probably quietly toss in a fiver to avoid an ugly scene.)

Although we do not need to arrive en masse, they have suggested that we arrive about 2:00 pm because at 2:45 a children's play will be letting out downstairs and it may get more crowded. The museum also has a gift shop (Sorry, guys, we had to put that in for the gals.)

After the museum, we will congregate at 4:30 at Pearson's Edina Restaurant, 3808 West 50th Street — near 50th and France — for an early supper in their famous "back room" (as in I'll have what the boys in the back room are having.)

If you are done with the museum early, you can do a little window shopping in the always tastefully decorated shops at 50th and France in — say it slowly — EDINA.

Pastor Joel is doing a series on evangelism. And it worked — Barb Hugo led a hospitalized homeless alcoholic in liver failure to the Lord. (Ask her about it.) There are other special events that will sprinkle the calendar as the ABF year progresses.

Our fearless* leader, Dick Miller, has facilitated our discussion of the Gospel of John most of this fall season. He was clear that he is not a teacher because teachers will be judged by a higher standard. (Tell it to the judge, Dick.) But it has been a good series with contributions from the class and a facilitator who insists that the Scripture must change our hearts, not just our minds.

*Fearlessness may not be safe for the fearless one, but we as a class need it those people. If Dick had any fear whatsoever, he would not have taken on the job, which is akin to picking up litter on the median of the freeway.
